Men Thought to be Highwaymen Found To Be Very Drunk

Three men reported in several newspapers to have been arrested on the Moulton pike after they attempted to rob a driver of an oil wagon were found this morning to have public drunkenness charges preferred against them at the court house. One man was found by the driver lying in the road. He told a resident on the pike that the man might be dead and word was sent to Sheriff Forman. The man was found to be intoxicated and his companions were nearby. Sheriff Forman does not believe that the men attempted robbery, but may have molested passersby. The men are out on bond.

Church to Celebrate Pastor's Anniversary

The First Baptist church of Albany is planning a special service for Sunday, October 29, in celebration of the second anniversary of the pastor, Rev. R. F. Stuckey. The program has not yet been announced.

Since Dr. Stuckey has been the pastor of the church it has made much progress in every way, and is now engaged in building a handsome church house, which will be of brick and will cost several thousands of dollars.

Jack Hughes Leaves to Take St. Louis Position

Jack Hughes, a popular employe of Crow & Crow on Second avenue for the past three years, left last night to accept a responsible position with the Sharpleigh Hardware Company of St. Louis. Mr. Hughes was exceedingly popular here and his departure is generally regretted, although his field of activity is wider and more lucrative.

Soldier Boys who Took French Leave to Pay Last Tribute to Fallen Leader, Escape Jail

Doing something and then getting permission works—sometimes. It came near not working with the Company E boys who left camp at Montgomery the first of this week without permission. The recruits were Frank Erwin, Clarence Yates, Oscar Sawyers, Howard Grady, Wm. Garris, Clyde Esterwood, Wm. Southern, and a few others. The story as it has "leaked out" is about as follows:

The aforementioned soldiers when they heard of the passing of their former captain, the late Major Roy E. Horton, were seized with a determined purpose to visit Albany, and view the face of their beloved leader for the last time. They knew that as their company was on the eve of leaving for the Mexican border that military exigency precluded the possibility of their getting off the regular manner, so the boys resolved to take a chance on doing wrong and then pleading for forgiveness—a very dangerous attitude of mind, and it would not have worked but for three persons—First, the fallen major and the reverence of his memory, Lieut. Tisdale and Capt. Jackson of Company E.

New York, Oct. 11.—Possibility that Germany has established a submarine base on the Mexican coast is contained in the latest development in the U-boat raid on shipping in American waters.

The latest reported position of the U-53 was 158 miles due east of Fire Island, which is considerable distance south of the Nantucket Shoals zone where she was operating on Sunday.

A high British official stated that Capt. Rose of the U-53 might head for the Gulf of Mexico and attempt to resume raiding operations, but he admitted that the temptation of sinking ships such as the Adriatic, the Philadelphia and the Minnehaha might induce him to linger off New York.

The mystery of the Kingston, which was reported to have been sunk on Sunday, has not yet been cleared up and it is not yet established definitely whether five or six ships were sunk by the Germans.

New York, Oct. 11.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador, declared today that there would be no resumption of U-boat warfare in Germany. "There will be no recurrence of the U-boat warfare," the ambassador said with unusual emphasis. "Germany does not contemplate in any way violate the pledge she made to this country." The ambassador's statement was made after he had held a conference with James W. Gerard, ambassador to Germany.

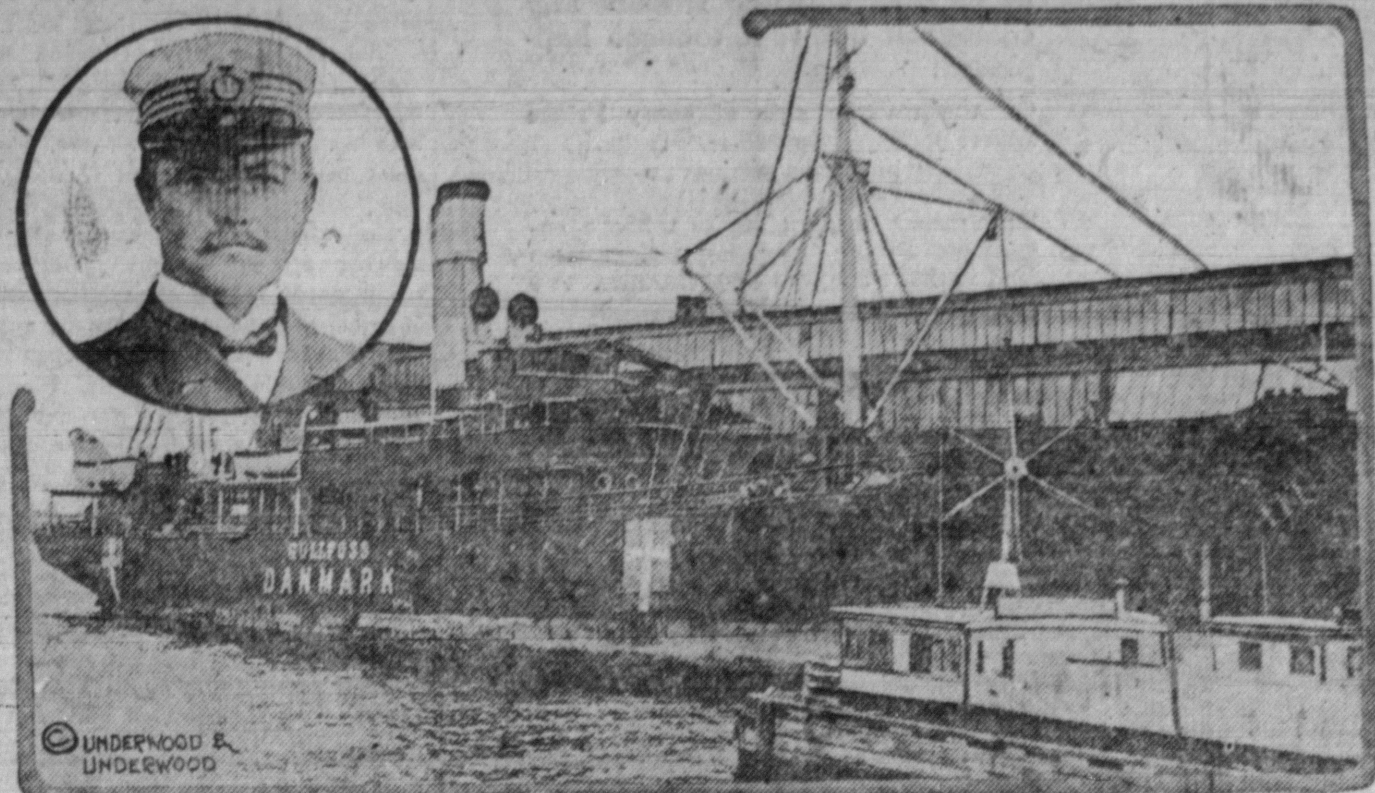

NO BLOCKADE U. S. PORTS BY GERMANS IS EXPECTED.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Oct. 11.—Germany is expected to agree not to try to blockade American ports with her submarine fleet. She will, however, insist on her right to operate along the regular steamship lanes in her attacks upon enemy commerce.

That will be the position which will be assumed when this government reiterates to Germany a similar protest to that made to Anglo-French operations off the big harbors of the

ICELAND STEAMER ARRIVES AT NEW YORK

Flying the Iceland flag, a sturdy little steamer poked her nose through the waters of New York harbor a few days ago and docked at pier 8. This inaugurated the opening of a steamship service between Iceland and the United States, the first ocean communication between the two countries since Left the Lucky, son of Eric the Red, landed on the shore of Cape Cod about the year 1000. On board the boat, which is named the Guldfoss, were a crew of Icelanders. The illustration shows the Guldfoss at its dock and its captain, Sig. Pjetursson.

BROOKLYN'S TITLE HOPES FADE AS BOSTON TAKES ANOTHER

Brooklyn, Oct. 11.—Boston practically clinched the title as world's champions by defeating Brooklyn here this afternoon. With but four games to win, Boston has already annexed three, and tomorrow will open on her home grounds for what may prove the final foray of the 1916 series.

Marquard, Brooklyn's mainstay in the box, was sent to the mound again this afternoon, and as on last Saturday failed to deliver. He was retired in the third, Leonard went in for the bunch from Beauville, and did consistent work.

The fireworks opened in the first frame. After the Boston batters had gone out in one, two, three order, Johnston came up as the lead-off man for the Robins. He hit the first ball thrown for three bags. His teammates rallied to his support, and Brooklyn got away to a 2 to 0 start. Their triumph was short lived. In the next inning after Lobby had walked, Lewis hit safely; then Gardner, whose pinch hitting won the 11-inning affair of Monday, smashed a terrific circuit clout, and the score was 2 to 3.

(International News Service.)

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 11.—A crowd, exceeding that of yesterday turned out here today for the Red Sox-Dodger battle for the baseball championship of the world. It looked like 23,900 people, at least, when "play ball" sounded at 2 p. m. Practically every three-dollar chair was occupied, so were the majority of the boxes.

The following line-ups were announced:

Boston—Hooper, rf.; Janvrin, 2b.; Walker, cf.; Hoblitzel, 1b.; Lewis, lf.; Gardner, 3b.; Scott, ss.; Carrigan, c.; Leonard, p.

Brooklyn—Johnston, rf.; Merkle, 1b.; Myers, cf.; Wheat, lf.; Cutshaw, 2b.; Mowrey, 3b.; Olson, ss.; Myers, c.; Marquard, p.

The batteries, for Brooklyn—Marquard, Cheney, Rucker and Myers.

Boston—Leonard and Carrigan.

First Inning.

Boston—Hooper out, Marquard to Merkle. Janvrin struck out. Walker struck out.

Brooklyn—Johnston tripled to right center, hitting the first ball pitched. Myers singled to right. Johnston scores. Merkle walks on first four pitched balls. Wheat forced Merkle at second, Gardner to Janvrin, Myers going to third on play; Wheat goes to second on a wild pitch. Myers scores when Janvrin fumbles Cutshaw's grounder, Wheat going to third and Cutshaw stopped at second. On an attempted double steal Wheat was out. Cutshaw went to second. Mowrey struck out. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Second Inning.

Boston—Hoblitzel walks to first on four straight balls. Lewis doubles to right, sending Hoblitzel to third. Gardner smashed out a home run to center field, scoring Hoblitzel and Lewis; it was a terrific clout and went to the end of the field. Scott safe at second on Wheat's fumble. Carrigan out, Marquard to Merkle, Scott going to third on the play. Leonard struck out. Hooper out at first. Three runs, two hits, one error.

Brooklyn—Olson out at first, thrown out by Gardner and it was a sensational play. Myers walked to first on four bad ones. Marquard out at first. Myers goes to second. Johnston out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning.

Boston—Janvrin out at first. Walker singled to infield. Hoblitzel died out to Myers. Lewis up, Walker out trying to steal, Myers to Cutshaw.

Brooklyn—Myers flied out to Walker. Merkle flied out to Scott. Wheat flied out to Lewis.

Players of both sides are finding continual fault with Quigley's rulings on balls and strikes.

Fourth Inning.

Boston—Lewis singled to left field. Gardner sacrificed Lewis to second. Scott out at first. Carrigan singled to centerfield. Lewis scored. Leonard walked on first four pitched. Hooper up. On short pass ball Leonard started to second, Carrigan to third. Leonard caught, Myers to Merkle to Cutshaw.

Brooklyn—Cutshaw doubled to right. Mowrey walked. Olson out on pop to Hoblitzel. Myers flied out to Scott. Pfeffer bats for Marquard, struck out.

Fifth Inning.

Boston—Hooper walked. Janvrin fanned. Hooper stole second. Walker out on fly to Olson. Hoblitzel doubles to left, Hooper scores. Lewis fanned.

Brooklyn—Johnston flied out to Lewis. Myers flied to Hooper. Merkle singles to right center. Wheat singles to left, Merkle going to second. Cutshaw flied out to Lewis.

Sixth Inning.

Boston—Gardner fanned. Scott struck out. Carrigan singles along left field line. Leonard struck out.

Brooklyn—Mowrey flied to Lewis. Olson out at first. Myers out on fly to first.

Seventh Inning.

Boston—Hooper singled through short. Janvrin forced Hooper at second trying to sacrifice. Walker out at first. Janvrin going to second. Hoblitzel hit to Cheney, who relieved Marquard in third inning. Cheney threw wild and Janvrin scored. Lewis forced Hoblitzel at second.

Brooklyn—Omara bats for Cheney, fanned. Johnston out on fly to Hooper. Myers out on fly to Hooper.

Eighth Inning.

Boston—Rucker pitching for Brooklyn. Gardner out at first. Scott out at first. Carrigan fanned.

Brooklyn—Merkle out at first. Wheat flied out to Walker. Cutshaw flied out to Lewis.

Ninth Inning.

Boston—Leonard struck out. Hooper singles to infield. Johnston fumbled. Hooper out trying to steal second. Myers to Mowrey, Janvrin struck out.

Brooklyn—Mowrey out on fly to left. Olson walked. Myers forced Olson at second. Stengel ran for Myers. Getz batted for Rucker, out at first.

THIRTEEN INJURED IN RIOTING AT BAYONNE; FOUR POLICEMEN SHOT

STRIKERS AND OFFICERS FIGHT PITCHED BATTLE IN THE DARK.

SIX THOUSAND MEN OUT SAWED-OFF SHOTGUNS, RIFLES, STONES AND CLUBS USED WITH DEADLY EFFECT.

(International News Service.)

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 11.—Strikers of the Tidewater Oil Company held Bayonne in a grip of terror today.

One thousand strikers attacked J. J. O'Connor, lieutenant of the Lehigh Valley railroad police, and five associates, beating them into unconsciousness. Believing O'Connor dead the strikers threw his body across the railroad tracks and left it.

Two other railroad detectives were beaten nearly to death in another attack.

The Standard Oil Company has been granted permission by the authorities to use machine guns against the strikers. A mob held up a Jersey Central freight train in the belief that it was hauling gun powder to the oil plant. While the fireman fought off the strikers the engineer opened the throttle and the train rattled through. The strikers cut off six cars, which the Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 11.—With 12 men hurt, three of them fatally, in battles at the plant of the Tidewater Oil Company, where more than 6,000 men are on strike, that section of this city today presented a scene of actual warfare.

One hundred policemen armed with repeating rifles and sawed-off shotguns were entrenched during the night before the yards of the oil company while strikers armed with revolvers, rifles and clubs patrolled the streets.

Threats by the strike leaders to renew the fighting caused the gravest apprehension early today. Of those wounded in the street fighting four were policemen and nine strikers.

A situation which threatened for awhile to develop into the most dangerous of the strike arose at noon when between 700 and 800 armed strikers moved upon the police station to rescue two strikers whom the police had arrested.

The strikers threatened to tear down the police station if the prisoners were not given up. The four or five policemen in the building armed not only themselves but all the reporters in the building to resist the threatened assault.

In the meantime a boy was smuggled from a rear window with a bicycle. The boy rode off unseen and brought reinforcements of 20 armed reserves. The mob dispersed when reinforcements approached with weapons in hand.

French Claim Fresh Progress on Somme Front and Chaulnes is Near Fall

(International News Service.)

London, Oct. 11.—The Austro-German army under Gen. Von Falkenhayn which is at grips with the Roumanians in Transylvania Alps is increasing its pressure and the retreat of the Roumanians is becoming a route.

On both sides of Kronstadt German troops are pressing on the heels of the disorganized Roumanians. Mt. Negrulea is again in German hands.

FRENCH CLAIM PROGRESS ON SOMME FRONT.

(International News Service.)

Paris, Oct. 11.—Fresh progress has been made by the French on the Somme front and German attacks in Champagne and the Verdun sectors have been beaten off, the French war office asserted today in its official statement. South of the Somme where the British scored a brilliant victory yesterday they have consolidated their gains.

VIOLENT ARTILLERY FIRE DEVELOPS ON SOMME.

(International News Service.)

London, Oct. 11.—Anglo-French positions on the Somme front were kept under violent artillery fire by the Germans during the night, especially the new positions of the French south of the Somme river. The Germans, in attempting to prevent consolidation of the newly gained ground of the allies, launched strong counter attacks.

Allies artillery replied to the German guns and a lively artillery duel developed. Gen. Foch's troops are on the outskirts of the important town of Chaulnes, as the result of the new thrust on Tuesday, and it is believed that Chaulnes will soon be in French hands.

On the Struma river front in Greece the British are now only two miles from the important city of Seres, according to an official dispatch to the British war office from Salonika today. Bulgarian cavalry operating south of Seres were dispersed by the British. On the western end of the Macedonia front the Servians are pressing closer to Monastir and a big battle has developed around Chuka height.

BRITISH CENSORS "PEEVED" BECAUSE I. N. S. REFUSED TO DOCTOR NEWS REPORT

(International News Service.)

New York, Oct. 11.—The English censors have been threatening for many months to deny the International News Service the privileges of the mails and cables because the International News Service did not print the kind of news that the English desired to have printed in this country. The International News Service defied the censors and declared its determination to print the facts as nearly as it could find them without regard to English preferences and prejudices.

The English censors issued a statement saying that the International News Service has been denied the mails and cables because it has "distorted" the news. The facts of the matter are that the International News Service has been denied the mails and cables because it has not been willing to distort the news. The International News

Service has printed many important news facts exclusively, news facts which even the English papers did not get until they saw them in the American papers subscribing for the International News Service and then were compelled to copy them. Among the news beats and accurate news statements of the International News Service was the sinking of the Audacious, a most important fact which the English papers were not able to print until after it appeared in the International News Service papers. It is the intention of the International News Service to continue printing the news, all the news and nothing but the news, regardless of what the British government wants printed. The British government wants the American newspapers to print only distorted news or lying news.

THE SELMA AMENDMENT.

When the voters go to the polls on November 7 they will be given the opportunity to vote on a number of amendments to the constitution of Alabama. One that is of peculiar interest only to the people of Selma is known as "Selma Amendment No. 4." It is an educational amendment. It costs nobody a dime, not even the people of Selma.

The newspapers of Selma are actively behind the amendment. They are pushing it, as is everybody in Selma. That enterprising town, live, respectable and ambitious wants to have better schools. To enlarge its educational opportunities it must have more money for school purposes, and to get this it is asking—not an increased tax rate, but a reapportionment of its funds.

What it wants to do is to switch its apportionment like this:

Present apportionment:
General fund, 3 mills.
School fund, 2 mills.
Bond fund, 4 mills.
Proposed apportionment:
General fund, 4 mills.
School fund, 3 mills.
Bond fund, 2 mills.

The electorate of North Alabama should be quick to come to Selma's relief. It is a matter that does not affect this section of the state, and for that reason the earnest petition of Selma for the right to regulate its own finances should be the more readily granted. Do Selma a favor, and later on Selma will be glad to do North Alabama a good turn. Vote for the "Selma Amendment No. 4" on November 7.

Rev. J. C. Persinger has resigned as superintendent of the Alabama Anti-Saloon League and will return to the ministry. He was appointed to succeed Rev. Brooks Lawrence, who was a very active factor in securing the enactment of the prohibition laws of the state. The resignation of the Rev. Persinger is not a surprise. His talents were for the ministry, while the head of the Anti-Saloon League to be a success must be a politician first. Although prohibition may be a moral issue, it can only be made effective through political channels. Brooks Lawrence knew when and how to pull all the political ropes. His successor should have the same kind of genius and training.

PINKNEY'S PLACE IN HISTORY

His Fame as the Greatest Lawyer the United States Has Produced Is Secure.

Even that test of truisms, the ephemerality of a lawyer's fame, offers no adequate explanation of the obscurity in which sleeps the genius of William Pinkney. For Pinkney was not merely a great lawyer. According to testimony that leaves no room for doubt or controversy, he was the very greatest lawyer that this country has ever produced.

Nor was this all. He served his country with distinction and success in the labyrinth of diplomacy, at the cabinet table, in the halls of congress and even on the field of battle. Above all, at a most critical point of our history, when the clamor of contending sections disturbed the tranquility of the Sage of Monticello, "like a fire bell ringing in the night," to use Jefferson's own expressive phrase, it was Pinkney who rose to the occasion and recalled senators to a sense of their duty and patriotism.

Of him John Marshall said that he was the greatest man he had ever seen in a court of justice. Of him Taney wrote in 1854: "I have heard almost all the great advocates of the United States, both of the past and present generation, but I have seen none equal to him." Of him Story remarked: "His clear and forcible manner of putting his cases before the court, his powerful and commanding eloquence, occasionally illumined with sparkling lights, but always logical and appropriate, and above all, his accurate and discriminating law knowledge, which he pours out with wonderful precision, give him, in my opinion, a great superiority over every man whom I have known."

When such a court unanimously concurs in rendering judgment, hold it did the man who claims an appeal.

HARD WORK ON THE FARM

Many Middle-Aged Men Will Remember the Tribulations Consequent on "Haying" Time.

July was once a period dreaded by the American country boy, as the time of "haying." To be sure it was relieved by the turbulent and explosive joys of July 4. But every other day, often in the concentrated hours of the national birthday, he was driven to the hayfield with rake and fork. How his heart rebelled against the humdrum toil!

By one of the mysterious dispensations of Providence, the smallest boys were put to work in the most exhausting post. While the older men were down on the barn floor where the cool breezes swept in from the wide open doors, it was the function of the boys to receive the hay under the eaves of the structure and push and trample it down in the smallest possible compass. Only by much treading could the dried grasses be compressed into a reasonable space.

It was a perfect inferno of heat, the air filled with choking dust, the snow baking from the sun beating on the roof. With no particle of breath from out of doors it was like the furnace where walked Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego of old Bible times. The men down below seemed positively to gain satisfaction from covering them up with fast coming forkfuls of the dusty hay.

Still there were certain alleviations. The can of cold water sweetened with New Orleans molasses and spiced with ginger from the pantry is still recalled. Also at the close there was an Elysian dip in the swimming hole.

Today the youth may swing in the hammock with the summer boarders, while Polish and Swedish farm hands perform these tasks for which their physique is ample, greatly lightened by modern machinery. But certain habits of toilsome industry that gained their hold in the father's soul from the regular performance of such hard labor may be lacking in the son.—Janesville Gazette.

MOST FAITHFUL OF FRIENDS

Love of Dog, Once Gained, Is Never Forfeited, Though Fortune May Smile or Frown.

A dog worthy of the name is of all animals that walks on two legs or on four the creature least affected by the mutations of fortune, says the Philadelphia Ledger. "Cesar" in the funeral cortege of King Edward VII. was not more sorrowfully proud of his place than a dog faithful at the grave of a tinker whom he has followed in all weathers. Your dog does not regard your clothes nor explore your pockets. He takes you on faith—blind faith; you are his king, incapable of wrong. He reads his heaven on earth in your approving countenance.

No ribbon or medal can take the measure of the sentiment of the true dog lover toward his most faithful friend of all. When the rest of the world is cold and hard, his dog will still rejoice to meet him when he comes home at night. His dog will think no evil, whatever the master may do. It is a wonderful thing for a man to experience a trust so absolute and so unflinching. Who shall call it a dumb brute whose eyes and paws are so eloquent and whose love speaks in a look?

Southern Railway Withholds Dividends

Road Suffered Heavy Loss From Disastrous Floods of Year.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—John Kerr Branch, of Richmond; Adrian Esslin, Jr., of Charles Lanier and Edmund D. Randolph of New York, were re-elected as directors of the Southern railway for a term of three years at the annual meeting of the stockholders held here today.

The meeting was open to the public and there was a large attendance of individual stockholders. The annual report of the officers was submitted and approved. Special discussions were given to the matter of the payment of dividends on the preferred stock, at the close of which a resolution approving the policy of withholding dividends for the present, was passed. In the annual report it was stated the damage to the property of the company occasioned by the storms of July was estimated at approximately $1,250,000, without taking into account loss of traffic or cost of detouring trains.

THOUGHT HIM DOWN AND OUT

Old Friends Meant Well, But Really "Henry Brown" Was in No Need of Assistance.

A wealthy and middle-aged business man who requests that his name be not used in connection with this story, likes to do his own automobile repairing. His garage is some distance from his house, temporarily; that is, he is renting a garage about a block away from home. And one Sunday morning he put on his working clothes and went over to do some tinkering on his machine.

When he had finished pattering about, he was pretty dirty. His clothes were a mess, but that didn't make any difference, for they were regular working clothes. His hands were black, and he was sadly in need of a shave. So he hurried home to clean up. And on the sidewalk, a few doors from his home, he met a man whom he hadn't seen for 20 years.

"Why, isn't this Henry Brown?" asked the other man.

"Yes, it is," answered our friend. "And I guess you're Jim Jones. Glad to see you. What are you doing in Cleveland?"

"Just staying with friends for a few days," answered the old friend, looking over his shoulder with a puzzled expression. "Do you live in Cleveland—but, of course, you do."

"Yes, I've lived here for 20 years," answered Mr. Brown, who was totally unconscious of his appearance, and wondered at the pitying and puzzled expression on the other's face. "I suppose I'm settled here for life—don't see any chance to get out of the everlasting grid I'm up against."

"Oh, cheer up," said Jones, clapping him on the shoulder. "Things are never too late to mend. I think I know an opening for a man who is sober and industrious—it would be better than the work you seem to be doing now. Here's my card—I'll be at the hotel for three days. You come around tomorrow at your noon hour and I'll see what I can do for old time's sake."

Brown stood staring at him as he hurried away. Then he grinned and entered his house.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In St Mary's

(BY MRS. W. E. STRONG.)

She slipped out the back door of her uncle's weather-beaten little house and went down the path that led to the back entrance to the church. As she passed through the churchyard she paused a moment beside the stones that marked the plot where her father and her fair young mother slept. She brushed aside the garlands of roses that almost covered the white slabs, and read as she had often done before, their brief story:

"Barbara, dear wife of Frank Leverne, aged twenty-one years." And on that other stone, two years later, was inscribed, "Frank Leverne. Thou didst beckon, dear heart, I come to thee."

The whole place was a mass of mystery and of dreams. The sun, going down behind the hills, cast phantom-like shadows across the quiet graves. Invisible forms seemed to lurk in the dim corners of the churchyard. The wind, sifting through the trees, was like a whisper of the dead, speaking of, but never leading to the unknown.

She hurried into the church, sat down at the organ and ran her fingers over the keys. The tones she drew were strong and jubilant, expressing the rapture in her soul.

It had come the last—the great joy for which she had prayed, and hoped, and waited. Tomorrow she would leave the old life far behind; and the new life stretched alluringly before her. Tomorrow! Tomorrow! And every fibre of her being thrilled with ecstasy.

It was a magnificent position that had been offered her out in the great busy world of which she had read, but of which she knew so little; a position, brilliant in possibilities, where personal contact with educated men and women would awaken the finest elements in her nature and strengthen them as nothing else on earth could.

Ambition! It was the keynote of her existence. Ambition! That great actuating principle of life. She dared the world to keep her down. The melody under her fingers grew stronger; it rang out like a battle cry in a thunder storm.

Of course she would miss the dear old church, the organ, those graves out there in the sun, and—Joe. They had been comrades always, he being her strength and she his inspiration. Unconsciously her fingers took minor chords. Joe was big and strong, and boyishly beautiful; Joe had made smooth many rough places in her life; and she believed her going would leave him desolate for a time; but he would soon get over that; soon outline the hopes that had blossomed in his heart and had fallen to dust, which, after all, is the end of all things. Dear Joe! Vibrant with tenderness and rich with sympathy, the soft tones floated over the church. What would she have done all these years without Joe's love?

Love! Those consecrated graves in the churchyard told of love; that picture in the painted window of Christ standing in a field of lilies with outstretched hands, told of love; the organ, in low and quivering tones, told of love, abiding and eternal.

The door opened softly. Somebody entered. The girl turned and looked into his loveliest eyes, her own eyes soft and deep. Her hands were still on the keys, and a plaintive chord filled the air.

The sinking sun stole through the glowing windows and fell upon her bright hair, making a shining glory about it. Her simple white gown caught up the colors of the evening sky. It seemed to the young man that the heart of the sunset was waiting to meet him.

"Carol." How purely fitting was the sweet name. "Carol."

She leaned forward as he came towards her and held out her hands. In the shadow of the great old organ, her face looked pensive and still. "Love is the deepest principle of life, greater than ambition, stronger than will, eternal as death. I'm not going, Joe," she said.

Another Decatur Case

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Decatur Folks.

Just another report of a case in Decatur. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Decatur with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. J. D. Livingston, 210 W. Church street, Decatur, says: "My kidneys weren't acting right and for over a year I was confined to bed suffering from inflammation of the bladder. No one but myself can know the severe pains I endured. My ankles and hands swelled and the kidney secretions were unnatural. I had a dull, steady ache in the small of my back. I was getting in a very bad way and after eight different physicians had failed to cure me, my family doctor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. One box made me feel much better and I haven't had a bad attack of kidney trouble since."

What Is Economy?

It Is Spending of Money or Time to the Best Advantage.

In this day and age when the cost of living is steadily advancing most people are interested in spending their money to the best advantage. The most economical people are not the ones that spend the least, but rather the ones who receive the most for their money. Some people are penny wise and pound foolish. It is economical to buy good wholesome food, even if it does cost a little more. People should preserve their health and comfort. A dime's worth of calomel may start your liver to acting, but it is not an economical medicine, as it invariably makes you sick; causes you to lose time from your work and is liable to salivate you. There is no longer any excuse for you to take this objectionable drug, as science has discovered a pleasant substitute for calomel, which is called Lemolac. This new medicine is very pleasant to take and as it does not sicken, weaken or salivate and cause you to lose time from your work it is becoming popular very rapidly. For sale by Owl Drug Co.

P. S.—If you forget the name spell calomel backward. (Adv.)

Jack Murphree Wins Majestic Range Prize; 300 Children Parade

Jack Murphree, aged 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Murphree, of Fairview, won the prize offered by Sivley & Sandlin for the best answer to the following questions:

1. What is the name of your mother's range and how long has it been in use?
2. Give names of any persons you know needing a new range.
3. Why is the Majestic known as the Range with a reputation?
4. What is your age?
5. When is your birthday?

There were more than 200 contestants for the first prize.

Nearly 300 youngsters attended the Majestic range demonstration yesterday afternoon, each receiving a souvenir. Cheering until their throats were sore, they paraded Second avenue, with A. T. Puteet at their head.

The demonstration continues all this week and is attracting much attention. Mr. Puteet is here representing the Majestic range manufacturers.

Offers to Marry Woman With a Past

(International News Service.)

Chicago, Oct. 11.—In memory of a sister, who ended her life at the age of fourteen because she had been betrayed and deceived, a farmer near Peace river, Alberta, Canada, is willing to give some woman with a scarlet past a chance to become his wife.

He makes his proposition in a letter to one of the officers of the Salvation Army here. The letter says in part:

"I want you to find me a young woman from the poor and the unfortunate who wants to live a Christian life and become the wife of a Christian man and live on a farm. Believing that my sister was as good a girl as ever lived, but only did wrong for the man she loved more than her own life, I am sure there are other good girls who have been led to sorrow and ruin in the same way.

"If I could find one such I would marry her for the sake of my dear sister, who might have been alive today if she had had such a chance as this to escape her shame. I will be a faithful husband to such a woman and if she has a child I will love it and bring it up as my own. I will never mention her past."

THE SHORT SKIRT.

(Courier-Journal.)
"The fashionable short skirt of 1916," said Simon Ford, the humorist, at a dinner in New York—"the short skirt is a very delightful thing. Put it up against one of those breezes that sweep around the Flatiron building these fall days, and it's then an inspiration to poetry.

Mr. Ford drew a huge roll of manuscript from his pocket. He put on his glasses.

"I will now read you," he said, "a poem that I dashed off while contemplating the current of young ladies in short skirts passing the Flatiron building on a windy day."

And he cleared his throat and read:

"Breeze, breeze, breeze."

Hartselle's New Big School Opens Monday

Postoffice May Also Be Moved to Larger Quarters.

Hartselle, Ala., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The handsome new public school building which has been in course of construction the past eight months will be open Monday the 16th. Owing to the destruction of the building by fire during the public school term last year, the different grades were compelled to scatter out in churches and private buildings, wherever accommodations could be had, to finish the term, and on account of the unfinished building have not been able to open this fall, but the full term will be completed. Prof. G. G. Glover, of Florence, is the principal.

The postoffice department is negotiating for a new lease in new quarters for the postoffice. The present quarters are entirely out of keeping with other business houses of the town and both the office force and the public have been greatly discommoded by the lack of room for the past two years or more. It is understood that a new building equipped with modern steel fixtures and handsome new furniture in the business part of town is under consideration, and that the move may be made in time to accommodate the holiday rush, notwithstanding the present lease does not expire until Feb. 8th.

Dr. A. M. White, chairman, and M. D. Wiggins of the finance committee, appointed by Wilbur Marsh, treasurer, have been interviewing democratic voters and collecting funds yesterday and today. It is the purpose of the local committee to remit through the state committee, and Hartselle will do her part towards the $25,000 asked for the state.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Social Pirates," a New Series of Kalem Pictures at Star Theatre Thursday.

The two central characters in "The Social Pirates" are Mona and Mary, two very attractive young women who had become embittered by the experience of some of their close friends against mankind generally but particularly against a class of notorious men who make it their business to profit by the weakness of the opposite sex by blackmail and other despicable methods. In fact, so embittered have the two girls become that they register a solemn oath to devote their lives to a campaign of retribution against this class.

Mona and Mary save a beautiful young girl from suicide. They learn from her that she has been jilted by a wealthy young man and the two girls immediately commence a campaign in which after inducing him to visit a supposed gambling house where he pays a large sum to make good the fictitious losses of Mona, the man is led finally to right the wrong he has done the girl he cast off by the clever ruse of a telegram sent in his father's name by Mary commanding him to marry. It is a sensational, thrilling and romantic episode that will keep you enthralled from start to finish and each succeeding episode is just as good or better.

"FAIR AND WARMER" OPENS THE THEATRICAL SEASON HERE OCTOBER 19th.

One of the most brilliant and widely heralded attractions of the coming season here will be Selwyn & Company's presentation of their farce sensation, "Fair and Warmer," which made such a striking success during the year of its run at the Eltinge theatre, New York, that it has a national reputation before the end of its first six months.

"Fair and Warmer" is the latest farce by Avery Hopwood, who also wrote "Seven Days" and "Nobody's Widow," and whose indisputable gift of making ludicrous situations, built around delightful and humorous people, who have a fund of brilliant lines, has never been better exemplified than in "Fair and Warmer."

Selwyn & Company have established themselves as "pickers of winners" by their production of "Within the Law," "Under Cover" and "Twin Beds," and in "Fair and Warmer" they have so worthy a successor to "Twin Beds" that they call it their second annual laugh festival.

GERMANS MAY HAVE SUBMARINE BASE

Atlantic coast, according to diplomatic officials here who know the facts.

The fact that the United States as the leading neutral has refused to accept the contention of the entente allies that submarines should be denied the use of American ports, is expected to aid in an amicable solution of the submarine question, as the United States now cannot make a friendly request to Germany to keep her underwater craft away from American waters.

The American note refusing to change the rules of the game as made public last night was the subject of general discussion here today. However, officials here realize fully that the general international situation is growing more dangerous daily. All the belligerent powers are interfering with American rights and there seems only possibility of redress under present conditions.

BRITISH CONSUL ADMITS

U-BOAT NEAR SAVANNAH (International News Service.)

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 11.—Despite the denial of the wireless operator on the American steamer Minnesotan that he had picked up a message stating that a German submarine was off the mouth of the Savannah river, the report was partially confirmed today by the British consul here, who stated that he had received the warning.

The British steamer Naya, scheduled to sail for Liverpool, is still in port and other British vessels anticipate orders not to sail.

LANSING BACK TO CAPITAL:

WILSON TO MAKE SPEECHES (International News Service.)

Shadow Lawn, Oct. 11.—Secretary of States Lansing who came here to confer with President Wilson left for Washington today. Asked if the conferences would result in the sending of another note to Germany on submarine activity and if it pertained in any way to Ambassador Gerard's visit, Mr. Lansing remained silent. Feeling here is that while it is possible that a note may be sent to Germany it is not highly probable. The president was busy during the morning preparing for his departure at 1:50 this afternoon for Indianapolis, where he will make three speeches tomorrow.

SUBMARINES WERE SUPPLIED BY MERCHANT U-BOATS (International News Service.)

London, Oct. 11.—German submarines which are raiding commerce off the United States coast are being supplied by merchant submarines of the Deutschland type at sea, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam today. The Dutch newspaper Pijl is given as authority for the statement.

U. S. IS SEARCHING FOR TEUTON SUBMARINE BASE (International News Service.)

Washington, Oct. 11.—The United States now has in progress one of the most comprehensive searches ever undertaken. Its object is to determine absolutely whether there is a German U-boat base on American territory.

British and French agents have said that parts for submarines were being manufactured here and sent to an unlocated point for assembling.

The entire resources of the state and navy departments and the department of justice are being utilized to investigate this allegation, although officials declare that it is their opinion that there is no truth in it.

It is realized, however, that such a base may have been established in the West Indies or along the coast of Central America.

VILLA WITH ARMY MOVES ON MADERA

BANDIT CHIEF REPORTED NOW ONLY TWO DAYS MARCH FROM THE BORDER.

(International News Service.)

Field Headquarters Punitive Expedition, Mexico, Oct. 11.—A large body of Villa bandits is moving north from the vicinity of Guerrero along the Mexican Northwestern railroad towards Madera, which was reported to have been occupied by Julio Acosta two days ago.

It is rumored that Villa himself is leading this group. Residents of Madera are fleeing from the city before the bandits' approach. Madera is less than two days march from the American lines.

French Mourn Death of Tiffen Rockwell

Read What The Children Say— Why the Majestic is Known as the Range with a Reputation

Many styles and sizes—
with or without legs.

Children's Answers:

PRIZE WINNER

The Majestic is known as the range with a reputation.

Because for 53 years it has stood every reasonable test. It has been proven that the Majestic saves more fuel and food and costs less for repairs, cooks better, more evenly, and heats more water than any other range on the market.

JACK M. MURPHREE.

1. We have a (Colonial) range. We have had it about four years.
2. The Majestic has a good reputation, because it is made out of the best material and Majestic means majesty which means highly honored or royal.
3. I am 12 years old.
4. My birthday is on the 18th of April, 1917.

GEANNIE CHENAULT.

Because it has been in use for many years and has proved to be the best range on the market.

ROBERTA WINTON.

My mother said it is the best range made because it bakes perfectly and heats water more quickly than any other range and deserves the motto: "The Best Ever."

It was 11 years old Feb. 12, 1916.

CHRISTINE ALMON.

The Majestic has a good reputation because it is made of such good material and the name means "King of all Ranges."

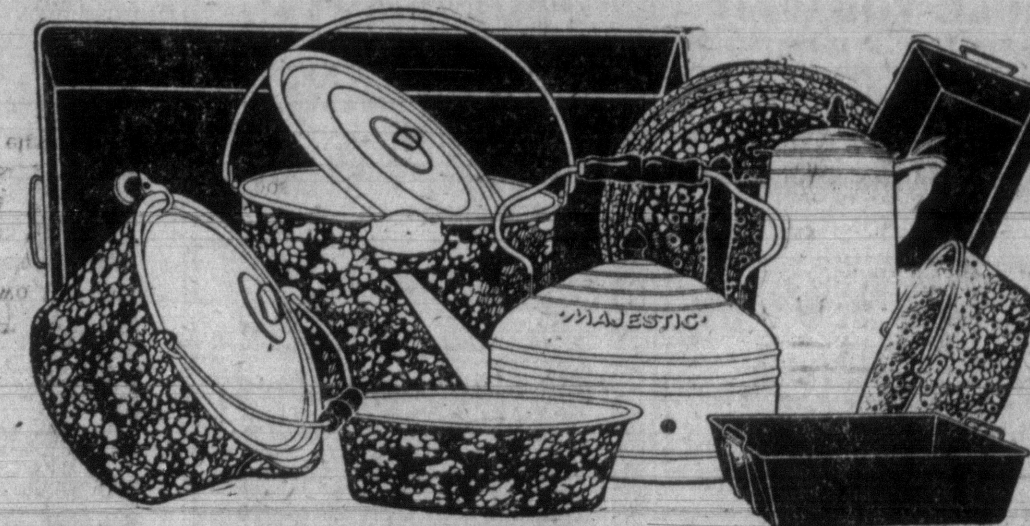

KATE FRAZIER.

3. Because it cooks better and quicker than others. Because it takes less coal or wood. Because it does not break. Because those who have Majestics are proud of them.

4. Eight years.

5. September 27.

EUGENE CHENAULT.
